Residential Service Hourly Rates:

Residential In-Home Service: $89/Hour Standard rate. Check here for Specials [1]. Also included is a trip-charge which covers travel expenses and the added convenience of computer repair in your own home! (Trip-charge for Residential customers will range from $35 to $55 for Indianapolis and the surrounding rural areas.) A one-hour minimum applies to Residential In-Home service. The cost of any parts needed such as a hard drive, router, etc. will be added to the service charge described above.

Residential Remote Access Service: $80 per hour, 1/2 hour minimum. ($40 minimum.) No trip charge and is often handled within minutes or hours. *Some situations will require a home visit, in which case Remote Access Service and Pricing can not be applied.

In-Shop Service: $80 per hour with a one-hour minimum. PcComputerGuy offers customers the option to drop off their computer and pick it up when the repairs are complete. Advantages of this option include significant cost savings; In-Shop service, we generally charge a maximum of three hours, even if the job takes longer to complete. (This may not apply in rare circumstances such as data-recovery. Your technician will discuss all of the details with you prior to completing the work.) In-Shop work can still take advantage of our specials [1]. For In-Shop service, there is no trip-charge, saving customers anywhere from $10-$40.
